Public Hearing To Discuss Future Of Routes 280, 282

The State Department of public Works, Division oif Highways has called for a public hearing May 28 to discuss the future routing and development of 10 miles of the proposed South Bay Freeway called Legislative Route 280, and Legislative Route 282.

Legislative Route 280 would run from the east end of the current construction by San Diego County near Sweetwater reservoir to U.S. 80 in the City of El Cajon. Cost of the Route 280 project is sighted at $20 million. A slight relocation of State 94 near Jamacha junction also will be discussed, the department reported.

Jacob Dekema, assistant state highway engineer for the State Division of Highways, said that the protection of the vacant land reserved for highway use on Legislative Route 282 along the west side of Sweetwater rd. from Jamacha blvd. to Blossom Lane also will be given consideration. Dekema said on April 19 that he is requesting state funds to purchase land for project 282—a project which is nearly ten years away, which will require a strip of land 200 feet wide, and will cost approximaely $4 million.

The public hearing has been set for May 28 at 10 a.m. at the El Cajon Valley Elks Club, 1400 E Washington ave., El Cajon. Purpose of the hearing is to present publicly the studies relative to the freeway locations, and to give local governmental officials, civic groups and interested individuals an opporunity to present their views relative to the alternate routes, the department said.

Legislative Routes 280 and 282 were included as part of the California Freeway and Expressway System by the State Legislature in 1959. According to the Division of Highways, Route 280 would, in general, serve the future needs of Jamacha blvd. traffic, while Route 282 would provide future service for Sweetwater rd.

Alternate Changes

Several alternate possibilities will be presented at the hearing including a possible minor change in the future State Sign

Ty Hardin To Close Valley Youth Shows

David Brian, TV's "Mr. District Attorney," star of Broadway stage and motion pictures, last night kicked-off a valley-wide Christian Youth campaign at the Grove Temple.

Five other celebrities including Louis Zamperini, Greg Loren, Bob Turnbull, Jerico Brown and Ty Hardin will appear at the Grove Temple, 3455 Imperial ave., tonight through Sunday, at 7:30 p.m.

Guest Speakers

The guests will speak on their conversion to Christianity, according to Wilfred Blovin, pastor of the Good Shepherd Mission and organizer of the Christian Youth Campaign.

Louis Zamperini, Olympic track star and director of the Christian Ski Club of Victory Boys Camps, will speak at tonight's youth rally.

Greg Loren, baritone of radio and TV who now is under contract to MGM, Word and Sacred Recordings, is scheduled to appear Friday, preceding the Saturday night performance of Bob Turnbull and Jerico Brown. Turnbull, former youth editor of the Review, has co-starred in "Dragstrip Riot," "Beloved Infidel" and the "Absent Minded Professor." The five-day campaign sprint will climax with the appearance of Ty Hardin, alias Bronco Lane of Warner Bros., Sunday at 2:30 and 7:30 p.m.

Purpose

Purpose of the youth campaign, Blovin said, is to bring Christian youth and youth who do not belong to an organized religion together in a spirit of fellowship. Students and people in their teens are especially welcome; children under 12 should be accompanied by parents, he said.

If the campaign is successful, Blovin plans to have a youth rally every Saturday night at the temple, inviting other famous people to speak, and showing films. He eventually hopes to develop a valley youth center.

Youth Disappointment Week

Next week is Youth Opportunity Week and I am joined by Sam Pernicano of Lemon Grove to head up the LG-SV effort.

With so many youngsters needing jobs it is heart-wrenching to face the fact that State and Federal agencies have made it all but impossible to hire youngsters. Heavy penalty of government control and additional taxes deter employers from adding youngsters to their payroll.

We hire some mighty fine youngsters in our newspaper backshop from time to time and some of these boys will go far in this world . . . perhaps aided by the kindly instruction and care of our shop foreman.

But last week several signs appeared in our community offering newspaper work to youngsters. The announcements gave no name and many of the youngsters came to us. In each instance we had to admit we did not know who was seeking employes and we had to explain that no jobs existed at this newspaper at present.

The disappointment registered by the youngsters was almost intolerable. Whoever put out the signs served neither himself, our youngsters or the community.

If newspaper jobs are available for youngsters of this community we call upon the person who placed the signs to let us know and we'll print a story about it.

If the perpetrator of the signs was doing it only in jest, he

Block Family Fund Grows

More than $260 has been turned over to the Block family it was announced Wednesday by Mrs. Betty Ruiz and Mrs. Stanly Panchul, chairmen of the Bloick Aid program in Lemon Grove.

The Blocks, Vernon and his family of five, who live at 2305 Washington, were all seriously injured early in March in an auto accident near Hemet.

All of the family is out of the hospital except Natalie. She will be in the Hemet Community Hospital for several more weeks.

This week a luncheon at Marston's netted the family $159. Other contributors, since the last report in this publication brings the total to $194.02 which is to be turned over to the family this week.

WINNER GIVES HIS PRIZE TO RETARDED KIDS

A Lemon Grove family whose charity is as great as its luck is good, was winner of first prize in the know your merchant contest.

The family asked that the $25 it won be given anonymously to Angels Unaware, the east county center for retarded children. This newspaper is presently conducting a subscription campaign under the center's auspices.

Second prize of $15 went to A. J. Aronson, space 12, trailer court, Jamacha blvd., Spring Valley.

Third prize of $10 went to Hazel Enright, 806 Merlin dr.

Winners were chosen on correctness and early returns. The first three contestants with correct answers were adjudged winners.

In the contest, a double spread of pictures was published with only photographs as clues. In every instance the picture of a chimpanzee was correctly identified with the shop.

Men's Club Views Centre City Plan

Members of the Lemon Grove Men's club received a vivid picture of the ultimate San Diego Centre City development Friday when William Walling, SD city planner and spokesman for Centre City was guest speaker.

The development as now planned will total 1,300 acres. The area is nearly centered in a circle of freeway routes making accessibility easy, Walling said.

The project will be completed as the metropolitan population grows, he said. A complicated ratio of employes to population based on the population reaching three times its present total of one million by the turn of the century was based as a reference.

There is no danger of an oversupply of office space, he added.

John Dail was program chairman.

The program Friday will be provided by William Marty, county director of civil defense. He will discuss the newly revised defense plan for this area.

The Men's club meets every Friday at Michael's at noon. Men are invited to attend. There are no dues and membership is not required to attend.

Jack Cummings is president.

'Mike Needs Helps, Mama'

Spring Valley Mother, Son Save Strangling Youngster

by Tom Gorton
Review News Editor

"Mike needs help, Mama."

The four simple words flowed smoothly, almost too calmly, over the lips of the three-and-a-half foot, three-and-a-half year old standing before his mother.

Mrs. Orville Schuff glanced down at Roger from the clothes she was sprinkling in the kitchen of her home at 1308 Walbollen st., and automatically peered over his little blond head out the picture window in the rear of the house.

Mike Spitz, 4, was hanging by his neck from the swing and slide set in the back yard.

"I thought he had a rope around his neck, but, actually, Mike was hanging by the collar of his flannel shirt on a bolt that protruded about one inch from the guard on the slide," Mrs. Schuff exclaimed.

"The first thing I could think of was mouth-to-mouth resuscitation." Mrs. Schuff said she was yelling for help as she hurried to the small, brown haired, blue eyed boy hanging from the swing set. She unhooked him from the bolt and began breathing into his mouth through his clenched teeth.

"He appeared unconscious to

SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE that little Mike Spitz, far right, could have hung by his shirt collar from such a small bolt—but he did! Mrs. Orville Schuff and her son, Roger, middle, show Mike the sawed-off bolt they found him hanging from last week. Mrs. Schuff used mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to save the child.

EMPLOYMENT RISES ABOVE YEAR AGO

Civilian employment and unemployment in California this March reflected improvement both from year-ago and from month-ago levels, according to a report by the Department of Industrial Relations and the Department of Employment.

At 6,255,000, the number of Californians working last March was higher than in any prior March and 208,000 or 3.4 per cent, above the level of a year ago, Ernest B. Webb, Director of Industrial Relations, announced.

Every major industry division except agriculture registered job growth from March, 1962. Manufacturing continued to score the largest over-the-year employment gain. Durable goods industries accounted for close to 80 per cent of the expansion in manufacturing employment, but the span between current and year-ago levels has narrowed in the last two months.

From February, total civilian employment advanced more than seasonally. The total increase was 42,000, of which over a third was in construction. Next in size of gain was trade, which increased by 10,000 with both wholesale and retail establishments participating in the rise.

Unemployment in California was 446,000 in March, down by 54,000 from February and by 10,000 from March last year. This was announced today by Albert B. Tieburg, Director of Employment, who noted that the February-to-March drop was more than seasonal.

The unemployment rate was 6.7 per cent of the labor force in March compared with 7.4 per cent in February and 7.0 per cent in March, 1962. (California rates of unemployment are not seasonally adjusted and, therefore, are not to be compared with seasonally adjusted U.S. unemployment rates).

The California civilian labor force was 6,701,000 in March, 1963, compared with 6,503,000 in March, 1962.

Newspaper To Be Put In Psychiatric Hospital Cornerstone

A copy of this newspaper will be among the items which will be placed in the cornerstone of the area's new $1,400,000 Mesa Vista hospital, being built on Kearny Mesa by the Vista Hill Psychiatric Foundation. The ceremony is being held as a feature of current National Mental Health and National Hospital weeks.

The cornerstone laying ceremony, which will be attended by the state legislators from this county plus city, county and civic dignitaries, and others is set for 2 p.m. Sunday at the site of the hospital, just south of the Sharp hospital, according to Robert Thorn, Foundation President.

"These items, which are typical of life in San Diego County, 1963, will be deposited in the cornerstone, not to be opened until 2063," said Thorn. "We hope that the citizens of a hundred years hence get a glimpse of life here as of today."

8,000 Received Annually at SDS

San Diego State's library has been designated by Congressman Bob Wilson as a depository for United States government publication, President Malcolm A. Love announced.

The designation means that, starting July 1, 1963, the library will receive without charge, its choice of more than 8,000 different publications issued annually by the Government Printing office.

The publications will include statistical and research reports from hundreds of government agencies, reports of federal investigations and hearings, records of Congressional proceedings, laws, statutes, treaties and court decisions, plus government journals, manuals, directorise, maps, periodicals, posters and films.

Both college and community members will have access to the new collection. Previously the only depository library in the region had been the San Diego Public Library.

Largest Publisher

Love said the Government Printing Office is the world's largers publisher. Without its documents, he said, no modern library can give adequate reference service.

The libary is open from 7:45 a.m. until 10:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 7:45 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. on Friday, and from 8:00 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. on Saturday. During these hours community residents may use library materials in the building.

Discount House To Open Soon In Former Piggly Wiggly Store Here

A big new discount operation by an expanding Lemon Grove firm is scheduled to open on Broadway at the end of the month.

The firm, Grove Mart, will open in the 13,000 square foot Piggly-Wiggly building by Art Helphand, who has operated the Lemon Grove Furniture and Carpet Co. here for the past six years.

The new enterprise will employ 20 persons and is expected by Helphand to gross a million dollars a year.

To be featured in the Mart will be furniture, carpeting, small and large appliances, cosmetics and sundries, hi-fi and stereo reproducers, patio furniture and patio plants. Decorating service also will be supplied, Helphand said.

The operation will include the building at 7825 Broadway, and parking areas on three sides of the building, plus a warehouse at the site of the present store.

Part of the side parking area will be made into a patio-like display where shoppers can better visualize potential purchases.

A gala opening is scheduled at which valuable prizes and free merchandise will be given. A list of local celebrities will be on hand to help with opening festivities.

Helphand said the Mart would price its merchandise lower than San Diego discount houses.

"We are going to show local people they need not leave their community to be able to save," he said.

Helphand came to Lemon Grove in 1959 and has 25 years in the furniture business. He first opened at 7345 Broadway and soon had to expand. He moved to 7341 Broadway where he had three times as much floor space in 1960. When he opens Grove Mart late this month he will have four times as much space as he now has.

The firm will be open six days a week, starting daily at noon except Saturday when it opens at 10 a.m.

Art Helphand . . . he sees $1 million sales yearly in a new venture in Lemon Grove.

Church Turned Down On Reclassification Plea

SAN DIEGO (CNS) — The S.V. Gospel Tabernacle ran into another delay Friday in seeking a special use permit for a church at Jamacha near Elkelton.

The planning commission asked for a revised plan, but some commissioners indicated they would still vote against the request.

Future widening of Jamacha rd. will require a portion of the lot and eliminate about six parking spaces.

The Rev. Don Kinsley, pastor for the proposed church, said that one of the buildings could be eliminated.

Commissioner Gilbert Ray, of Spring Valley, said that he would still vote against the permit despite such a change, because he felt that a 360-seat church was too large for the parcel.

Circular Church Has No Columns

Congregationalists Dedicate Glebe Road New Sanctuary

Nearly 500 persons jammed to capacity the parking facilities and sanctuary of the new edifice of the First Congregational Church of Lemon Grove Sunday.

A colorful ceremony of the "deliverence of the keys" marked the dedication of the new buildings on which $320,000 has already been spent. It is estimated that $200,000 more will go into the completed plant on Glebe rd.

A host of church dignitaries shared prayer in the sanctuary which was constructed as a hyperbolic paraboloid. The roof lines resemble the head of a floppy mushroom although the structure is comprised of two interesting systems of straight lines which give the appearance of a double curve.

The paraboloids are covered with a thin concrete shell and the circular system is built without columns.

The Rev. E. Walter Smith gave only the benediction, as other church functionaries presided. The Rev. Dan L. Apra, who preceded Rev. Smith as the church's pastor, offered the dedication prayer. Rev. Apra is now pastor of the Arlington Community church at Berkeley.

Glenn E. Zick, church moderator, was the master of ceremonies and introduced the notables who took part.

The Rev. Murray T. McNeill, pastor of the Los Altos United Church of Long Beach offered the opening prayer.

Dr. Howard Stone Anderson, Minister and superintendent Southern California and the Southwest Conference of the United Church of Christ, delivered a meditation appropriate to the dedication in which he explained "The Inward Pressure of Good News." The new church, he said, was good news.

The key ceremony was attended by C. J. Paderewski, the church's architect; S. F. Nielsen, the builder; Byron L. Netzley, chairman of the building committee, and Gerald R. Curry, chairman of the church's board of trustees.

In the ceremony the keys were passed down from one to the other to repose with Curry.

James L. Donohoo, moderator of the S D Assn. of Ministers and Churches recited the Act of Dedication followed by Rev. Apra's prayer and a Statement of Faith by Dr. Ralph C. Waddell, a retired minister of the Conference.

A choral offering by the combined youth and adult choirs under the direction of Robert Boucher provided a spiritual background.

An "Open House" followed in Mayflower Hall. Also open was Pilgrim House, containing eight classrooms.

Anonymous Winner Gives $25 To Help Retarded Children

Angels Unaware, the east county day center for the County Association of Retarded Children, had a minor windfall this week when a $25 prize winner in a contest sponsored by this newspaper gave his prize to the group.

The winner, who asks to be anonymous, named correctly all the persons in a merchants' promotion published in this newspaper April 18.

Two other prize winners are named elsewhere in this issue.

The $25 added to the income from 59 subscriptions will be added to previously paid funds to the center to be used for playground equipment.

The project is part of a circulation campaign in which this newspaper is involved.

The new total of Lemon Grove Review subscribers, including this week's 59 new ones, is 5,215. A dime is paid to Angels Unaware for each subscriber.

Meanwhile, nine new subscribers were totaled in the Spring Valley area in which the S.V. Welfare Association is aided by their sponsorship. These bring the total readership of the Spring Valley Bulletin to 4,205. Combination circulation for the two newspapers published by us is now 9,420.

In response to funds submitted to Angels Unaware this week, Mrs. V. O. Lee, publicity chairman sent this letter to us:

Dear Editor,

Again, many many thanks from everyone here at Angels Unaware for your additional checks and your kindness and support.

It is so gratifying to know that you, and the many people who are donating through their subscriptions feel it in their hearts to open up their purse strings to such a worthwhile and much needed project as our Day Center for "the least amongst us."

Some service clubs and individuals have come forth after seeing the appeal in your paper.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Victor O. Lee,
Publicity Chairman

Child Saved . . .

me, and his face was definitely discolored, but not yet blue. Pretty soon," Mrs. Schuff said, "Mike's jaw relaxed, he began breathing and then moving.

"I don't think it was the oral artificial respiration that saved Mike, but the fact that we released him so soon," Mrs. Schuff explained modestly. "Roger was the one who really saved Mike. He must have come to me immediately, and he was very calm, not a bit shook-up."

As soon as Mike came to, Mrs. Schuff picked him up and carried him across the street to his mother, Mrs. Dale Spitz of 1314 Walbollen st.

Mrs. Spitz took the boy to Dr. Donald Montgomery in El Cajon where he was pronounced in good condition, save some ruptured blood vessels in the eye lids, forehead, cheeks and ears and shirt burns on his neck.

On the same night of the April 22 incident, Mr. Schuff sawed the protruding bolt from the swing and slide set, which is used as a Jungle Jim toy by the boys. And the following day just across the street, Mr. Spitz dismembered the old swing set in his back yard.

"We have not forbidden the boys to play on the swings and slides, Mrs. Schuff said. "Our only demand is that the set be used properly. To me it was just a freak accident that could happen anywhere, like a child drowning in six inches of water It seems practically impossible that the boy could have been caught on the bolt."

"Are you going to do that anymore," Mrs. Spitz asked Mike after his ordeal?

"Yes," he replied; and sure as rain in Seattle the two tiny playmates were back on the swings the following morning.

State Department Policy Forces Soldiers To Be Non-Americans

If you think the Russians have a corner on intrigue, take a look at what the Department of State has brought us to.

It is the matter of Lt. William Szili and Captain Arthur Jackson, former Marine Corps officers who killed a Castro agent at Guantanamo after the agent violated the security of the base.

Jackson, the officer in command, shot Ruben Lopez in self defense after Lopez was caught within the boundaries of a restricted powder magazine.

One report is that Jackson fired at the agent to protect his life and property of the U.S. after the agent had been taken into custody. But State, apparently, was so intent on not offending the communists that new frontier guide lines have been devised. These guide lines favor the communists to such an extent that the men involved in the shooting of a communist spy were afraid to report it because of possible "political repercussions."

What's more, when the report finally was made, the officers were drummed out of the service without a hearing although they claim they demanded one.

What force is this we exert on our own patriots that they fear the penalty of doing their duty more than they fear the penalty of breaking the oath of allegiance to their own country?

Why has our government become concerned with doing only the things that are not offensive to communists?

These questions are academic and we need no one to give us the obvious answer.

With all the seriousness attendant the revelation that these officers did not perform as Armed Forces officers should, it is amusing to note that officers are as disdainful of pea-brained superiors as many enlisted men are disrespectful of the intelligence of a pea-brained lieutenant.

We are sure that many an American who served his country as an enlisted man is sympathetic with the unhappy lot of Capt. Jackson and Lt. Szili.

Since former Capt. Jackson is now a mailman in a N. California town, there will be many an enlisted man who will get a chuckle from proof that the things they said in the barracks about the lack of ability of officers, is further proved by Jackson's job.

(We also hope that all the dependable mailmen of the country will forgive us).

Letters To The Editor

April 24, 1963

Dear Editor,

I would like to thank you very much for being one of my judges for the Young Adult Awards.

Mrs. Warren Peterson
Yours truly,
Lemon Grove
Junior Membership

Dear Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to express to you and your paper my appreciation for your endorsement of my candidacy for the La Mesa-Spring Valley Board.

All of the candidates would join me, I am sure, in thanking you for the fair coverage of the campaign. The press coverage allowed the community to become apprised of the programs of the various candidates, so that they could vote intelligently for the candidates of their choice. This type of coverage is the hope of all candidates in any political campaign.

I would also like to express my appreciation for all those many people who worked so hard on my behalf in the campaign. Their support was indeed gratifying to me.

Yours very truly,
Robert E. Andreen,
Attorney

Wants System Explained

Dear Editor:

O.K. so you overflowed a local cafe with people interested in the freeway problems and your choice of candidates were all winners in the local school board elections. Before you break your arm patting yourself on the back let's direct accomplishment so that all your readers may better understand their newspaper publisher, editorialist.

The latter aforementioned feat invites the most interest and has raised some speculation as to what method you used to base your selections.

No. 1 Did you put all the names in a hat and make your selections blindfolded?

No. 2 Were some of your selections based on who was backing any particular candidate?

No. 3 Did you talk to each candidate, assessing their philosophy, (concerning the school board) as you went, thereby arriving at a decision?

Using your editorial policy as criteria we must conclude that you used the hat routine or conceivably you could have made a couple of selections just because you wanted to win, which of course would not be in the best interest of the tax payer but maybe the pat on the back is worth something? This could account for your choice of Andreen and Johnston who were solidly backed by the left wing and socialistically oriented C.D.C. In the other instance we could assume you spoke personally with and inquired into the background of each candidate before making your decision, a decision that would cost some of the more conservative candidates many votes and possibly the election.

If then again your editorials may be used as criteria then we must rule out the last two means of selection, and this naturally rules out talking from both sides of the mouth.

Tell us, Mr. Goodwin, what picking system did you use?

College Association Develops Cultural Activities Program

The newly formed San Diego County Junior Colleges Association, headed by President John S. Hansen of Grossmont College, has adopted a constitution and moved toward a program of intercollege cultural activities.

Under thisp lan the "guests in residence" would spend a number of weeks at each campus over a period of several months, with the cost being split among the institutions. Foundation assistance for this unique proposal is being sought.

In addition to Grossmont, the regular members of the association are Oceanside-Carlsbad, Palomar, San Diego City, San Diego Mesa and Southwestern College, San Diego Evening College, San Diego State College, and the San Diego County Department of Education are associate members.

Accreditation Team Visits Grossmont Junior College

Team Members

Members of the team are Catherine J. Robbins, president of Pasadena City College and team chairman; Robert C. Rockwell, president of Santa Barbara City College; John B. Shepard, president of Los Angeles Pierce College; R. C. Cannon, dean of the college of arts and sciences of California Western University; Erving F. Metzger, of the Bureau of National Defense Education Act Administration, California State Department of Education; and Virgil L. In addition to attending classes, talking with students and faculty administration and district and civic officials, the team members had been provided with a comprehensve report on college operations some weeks before making their official visit.

Grossmont College is currently sharing the Monte Vista High School campus in Spring Valley. Accreditation for colleges utilizing temporary facilities is normally limited to two years. The maximum term for which a college may be accredited is five years.

Grossmont will move onto a new campus in September 1964. Grading already is underway at the Fletcher Hills site.

Insurance Costs Less In L.G. Says Rotary Speaker

Lemon Grove motorists are paying automobile insurance rates, which are "considerably lower than Los Angeles and possibly the lowest rates in the state," Robert Shipman, president of the Insurance Agents Assn. of S.D., told the Rotarians Monday at Michael's.

Shipman said that the auto rates are 40% higher in Los Angeles, and about 55% higher in San Francisco.

Speaking on "Why Your Auto Rates Are So High," Shipman said that "motorists make their own rates through their driving records."

Peering into the future, Shipman said that in his opinion the "best hope for curtailing the traffic toll is more traffic safety education, like that which the high school students are receiving in their behind the wheel driving program." These students, he added, receive fewer citations, and as a result are rewarded by most companies with a 10 to 15% discount in rates.

Fashions for women are still in what might be termed the look-and-see era.

Helix Students Nominated For Awards Program

Vicki Espinosa, Joe Kinsella Jim Sunderman, and Kelsey Wiard, Helix High students have been nominated for the annual Achievement Awards program sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE).

This is the sixth year the council has conducted the national awards program. Designed to recognize outstanding high school seniors for excellence in English, the program has gained wide acceptance, James R. Squire, NCTE executive secretary said.

NCTE will announce the finalists at its annual Thanksgiving convention, and will send their names to every US college and university with the recommendation that these students be considered for scholarship assistance.

Reports of finalists from previous years show that 99% of them attend colleges of their choice and more than 70% of the total students honored receive scholarship aid averaging almost $1,000 per year.

Wade Captures Second Place In State Finals

Sari Wade distinguished Monte Vista High April 27 at Santa Barbara by capturing a second place in the California State Speech Finals, second only to St. Bernards of West Los Angeles.

Sari and Bob Riddell started the tournament for Monte Vista. Bob dropped out in the second round. Sari captured a first and a second in the first two rounds, and a first in semi-finals. Out of six finalists Sari took a second place in extemporaneous speaking, accepting her trophy at an awards assembly following the tournament.

Monte Vista tied for fourteenth place in Sweepstakes out of 118 schools. Monarchs boasted the highest individual events rating in the Grossmont District.

School Breakfast Honors Kiwanians

Forty members of the Southwestern Kiwanis and Lemon Grove Kiwanis Clubs breakfasted April 24 as guests of the O'Farrell Junior High School faculty in observance of Public Schools Week.

One of the purposes of the breakfast was to show appreciation to the Southeastern Kiwanis Club for their cooperation and services to the students and faculty of O'Farrell during the past year.

Wilson Lindsay, guest speaker, addressed the group concerning the "Role of the Visiting Teacher" in the San Diego Unified School District. Charles Kerridge, president of the Southeastern Kiwanis Club and a member of the O'Farrell faculty, presided.

SCHOOL BUILDING BONDS — State officials representing this area gather about State Treasurer Bert Betts as he announces the sale of $50 in State School Building Aid Bonds. Part of the funds will be used to start the new U of C campus in S.D. County. In the photo are Sen. Jack Schrade, Assemblymen Jim Mills, Richard Barnes, Hale Ashcraft and Richard Donovan.

Beaches To Get Pollution Check

San Diego County's bays and beaches are now receiving their annual "safe - for - swimming" check. Dr. J. B. Askew, director of the San Diego Department of Public Health, said State health department personnel are currently conducting a water sampling study of recreational areas along the coastline from the Mexican border through La Jolla Shores. Next month the San Diego Department of Public Health will complete the sampling study of recreational beaches north through Oceanside.

Among the beaches under study are Imperial Beach, Silver Strand, Shelter Island Ocean Beach, Mission Beach Windansea, Casa de Manana Pool, La Jolla Cove, and Kellogg Park at La Jolla Shores.

Dr. Askew said Imperial Beach will receive particular attention to be sure there is no evidence of contamination from the Mexican sewage outlet five miles south. "We want to be absolutely sure," he said, "that all of our beaches are safe for the public to enjoy before the swimming season begins."

The water sampling study will not include the San Diego Bay beach along the northeast shore of Coronado, which is now under quarantine. Dr. Askew pointed out that contamination will make that beach unfit for swimming until the metropolitan sewer is completed and Coronado empties its sewage into the big line.

No other recreational beaches along the county's coastline are now under quarantine.

Ships Return From W Pacific Cruise

More than 3,450 Navymen serving in 11 San Diego-based ships of the Pacific Fleet Amphibious Force are scheduled to return here from the Western Pacafic during the next two weeks.

The first six ships of Amphibious Squadron Three began arriving in San Diego at 8 a.m. April 30, after being deployed with the US Sevent Fleet in the Western Pacific. The squadron left San Diego last October.

Ships will dock at San Diego Naval Air Station piers 3, 4, 6 and 8.

7 AREA SCHOOL DISTRICTS TO RECEIVE BUILDING AID

The San Diego County State legislative delegation announced that seven school districts in this county will share in the proceeds of the $50 million in State School Building Aid Bonds sold by State Treasurer Bert A. Betts on April 10.

The new University of California campus in San Diego County will share in the proceeds of the sale of State Construction Bonds sold the same day. The joint announcement was made by Senator Jack Schrade with Assemblymen James R. Mills, Richard J. Donovan, Clair W. Burgener, E. Richard Banes, and Hale Ashcraft.

The districts in this area, which have current, approved applications for state aid to construct more classrooms, are Escondido Union, Lakeside Union, La Mesa-Spring Valley, Oceanside Union, Poway Union, Santee and Sweetwater Union H.S.
